As someone with a long career in workforce development including working for the Department of Labor and being a Director of a Workforce Development Board and now as the Executive Director of the California Workforce Association, I have had an opportunity to be acquainted with the work of the vast majority of the national trainers and consultants in the workforce development field. I have used the webinar, training and consulting services of Larry Robbin on many occasions. Larry has been invited to present at more of the California Workforce Association conferences than any other trainer because he provides the highest quality and most innovative training and consulting services of anyone in the field. His work is the state-of-the-art and yet very practical. Larry transforms the work people are doing to higher levels and helps his training attendees and consulting clients get results they never imagined. I highly recommend him to any organization.

"Larry is an outstanding webinar presenter on every topic he has presented for us. He has done twelve webinars for us on a wide variety of topics related to workforce development. This includes webinars about serving youth, customer service, business services, dislocated workers, soft skills, case management, staff retention, avoiding burnout and collaboration. I will focus on one webinar here, but my comments about that training easily apply to all the webinars he has presented. The webinar he did on trauma and trauma affected individuals really stands out to me. His broad knowledge of the topic helped us to see that trauma comes in many forms and how this could help us understand why an individual is acting the way they are. But he did not leave us there, he gave us practical tools that we could start using today! He also helped us get a better understanding of when to refer to professionals and not try to take on the role of a counselor. The very next day I found myself talking to a staff member about using one of Larry's tools with a difficult customer, and it worked! Larry's training is so effective that staff could implement the ideas the next day! That is one of the things that make his webinars so exceptional."
